At 7:30 o'clock, Wednesday evening, April 31, at the First Presbyterian church, corner of Fifth and Vine streets, in the presence of a large number of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties, the Rev. E. F. Abbott, of Fulton, Mo., joined in the sacred bonds of matrimony Miss Minnie Henrietta Bell, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Bell, of this city, to Mr. Frederick Stanley Piper, of Bellingham, Washington.

The guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hamsher, of Mound City, Mo.; Mrs. T. J. Sullivan, Chicago; Miss Florence Ralston, Columbus, Ohio; Julius Manger, New York City; Harry Luckhardt, Tarkio, Mo.; Everett Wheeler, Bellingham, Washington.

The Presbyterian church was handsomely decorated for the occasion with palms and dogwood blossoms. The wedding procession, ushers, Mr. Harry Luckhardt, Mr. Julius Manger, Mr. Bertram Lester and Mr. Elliott Whitlow; the maid of honor, Miss Clara Bell; the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the church to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played on the organ by Prof. A. H. Sauter, who performed a similar service at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Bell, parents of the bride, on April 30, 1888. The procession was met at the altar by the minister, the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Everett Wheeler. The ring ceremony was used.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, at which only a few of the intimate friends of the bride were present. Mr. and Mrs. Piper left on the 10 p. m. train for the West. They will be at home after June 15 at Bellingham, Washington.

At the wedding the bride wore a gown of white, champagne, the skirt draped over a bodice of chiffon, the bodice of embroidered lace; veil of tulle and carried a bouquet of white and orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a tawny of pearls and diamonds the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Miss Clara Bell, maid of honor, was gown in pink champagne, with a tulle of shadow lace and a pink chiffon train. She wore a picture hat trimmed with bows of pink tulle and carried a large bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. C. C. Bell, mother of the bride, wore a gown of blue lace, picture hat of white straw. Mrs. T. J. Sullivan wore a white lingerie dress. Mrs. Hamsher a dress of grey crepe de chene.

The bride received many beautiful and valuable gifts, among them a check for five thousand dollars from her father, Central, Missouri, Republican, May 1, 1913.

We take pleasure in reproducing the above, as the bride's mother was a former Oregon girl, graduating from the High School in the class of '88. In that class were R. C. Irwin, W. H. C. Sterrett, Maud McKnight, and Charles Triebel. The following year in April she became the wife of C. C. Bell, of Booneville, one of Missouri's most prominent citizens, and this wedding was one of the most charming ceremonies in the history of Oregon. Among the guests from abroad we notice that of Mrs. T. J. Sullivan, of Chicago, formerly Miss Nell Luckhardt, the bride's aunt, who also graduated from the old Oregon High school in the class of '94; her chums graduating that year were Nell Montgomery-Flegenbaum and Miss Copia Noelsch.

THE SENTINEL sends the sweet bride and the apple of her eye its sincere and best wishes, wishing them a long, long life, and every day of that life as happy as their wedding day.

MARTIN AND MARY HORNECKER

Her Final Summons.

After many years of suffering, and confinement to her bed as a confirmed invalid, "Aunt" Mary Meyer-Hornecker answered her last and final summons at the home of her only brother, Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer, in this city, Monday of this week, May 5th, 1913, in the 90th year of her age. She was the only daughter of Andrew Meyer, Sr., who came to this country in 1844, and in her passing, only one of the nine children, now survive—Mr. George Meyer.

Mrs. Hornecker came to this country with her parents, when a girl of only ten years, and has lived continuously in the county for the past 69 years, and has lived to see the county grow to its present proportions, and advancements in all that goes to make ideal conditions.

She was born in Baden, Germany, January 15, 1824, and the family on coming to the United States, first located in Wayne county, Ohio, and in 1844 came to this country. In 1879 she became the wife of Martin Hornecker, who survives her and who is now 91 years of age, and by reason of his infirmities, has been cared for by his children at Lander, Wyoming.

The loving care, watchfulness and interest shown this sorely afflicted woman by her only brother and his wife, and their children, is a beautiful lesson of the Golden Rule, and of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man.

Mrs. Hornecker, in her early life, became a member of the Presbyterian church, and before the afflictions of age overtook her, was active in church work, and often walked her two and three miles, that she might attend her church and drink into her soul the gospel of Him Crucified.

Funeral services were held from the home of her brother, where she had suffered so long, on Wednesday, May 7th, conducted by her pastor, Rev. T. A. Claggett, of the Presbyterian church, who was assisted by Rev. W. L. Meyer, of the German M. E. church.

DIES IN GREAT AGONY.

Mrs. Jacob Markt Dies From Burns
---Clothing Takes Fire While in Buggy.

Our entire community was saddened on Tuesday evening last, May 6th, as they have not been saddened for years, when the sad news reached us that Mrs. Jacob Markt had been so badly burned, that but little hope was entertained for her recovery.

Mrs. Markt and her husband had been to the city, driving in, in their buggy, and after doing their needful shopping and making a few calls, they departed on their way to their home two and a half miles east of our city. The couple are well advanced in years. Mr. Markt is now 78, and his wife 64, they jogged along at an easy gait, taking their own time. It was about 4 p. m. when they started for their home, and they had reached the farm of their son, Philip, only a short distance from their home place, when Mr. Markt alighted for the purpose of closing a gate.

Mr. Markt then returned to the vehicle and had no sooner started the team, when Mrs. Markt's skirts burst into a flame, and in a moment's time her entire clothing was afire. She jumped from the buggy, screaming, and Mr. Markt also. Her screams called the attention of her son, Philip, who was in the field nearby, and he hurried to the relief, removing his jacket, which he used in trying to smother the flame, tearing off the garments, and by the most heroic efforts succeeded in extinguishing the flame, but not until Mrs. Markt was frightfully burned from her ankles to the very hair of her head.

A Mr. Hughes and family, in a spring wagon, were driving homeward, and came close to the scene, and being attracted by Mrs. Markt's screams, hurried to the scene and they helped in every way, Mrs. Markt being put in the spring wagon and taken to her home.

Dr. Proud was called, who hurried to the scene by auto; the various children and neighbors summoned; and all that human power could do was called into requisition to relieve and save the life of this splendid wife, mother and neighbor—but the Divine Master had willed that she should answer His summons and in the most intense agony she died at the midnight hour came, Tuesday, May 6th, 1913, in the 65th year of her age, retaining her consciousness, till the last life spark had burned out—recognizing the heart-broken husband, children and neighbors.

What caused this sad and most peculiar accident, we have but one theory. Evidently there must have been a match on the buggy floor, and Mr. Markt on getting into the buggy, after closing the gate, must have stepped upon it, causing it to ignite, and a spark from it must have ignited Mrs. Markt's skirts, and the motion gave it air sufficient to cause the rapid lighting of the clothing.

In the sad and heart-rending death of this estimable lady, a gloom has been cast over our entire community, for she possessed so many beautiful traits of character. She was of a most beautiful Christian character; raised in the church; her father, the late Christopher Schlotzhauer, being one of the original class that banded to organize the German M. E. church here, and in her very early life, became a member of this church, and remained an earnest, zealous worker in the church throughout her entire life; ever ready and willing to bear her share, in advancing the cause of Her Master. She filled to its fullness her obligations as the wife, and mother, and as a neighbor was ever ready to do her part to help the needy in hours of trial or affliction.

Sweet, kindly Mrs. Markt, good night.

Sarah Elizabeth Markt was born near Pilot Grove, Cooper county, Missouri, January 24, 1849. With her parents she came to Atchison county, where they located in the "Irish Grove" settlement. In 1864 the Schlotzhauer family came to Holt county, and located in what is now known as the Bluff City district, and October 11, 1866, she became the wife of Jacob Markt, who only the year previous had returned as a veteran of the Civil war. The wedding ceremony took place in the little German brick church, from which on Thursday of this week, May 6th, her funeral was held, attended by such a large concourse of relatives, friends and neighbors, that its capacity was far overtaxed. The services were conducted by her pastor, the Rev. W. L. Meyer.

She is survived by her husband and eight children: John, Albert, Mrs. Julia Buntz, Philip, Charles, Mrs. Ida Richards, Ralph and Wesley; also 16 grandchildren. One child, Anna, died when about seven years of age. Three brothers and one sister also survive. Rudolph, of Los Angeles, California; John, of San Francisco, California; Philip and Mrs. Julia Gilford, of Curzon, this county.

Killed by Live Wire.

Bert Drake, aged 34 years, was shocked to death in the power house of the street railway company in St. Joseph, on Thursday, of last week, May 1, 1913.

Drake was a laborer in the engine room of the plant. His duty was to shovel coal into an automatic stoker that carries the fuel into the furnaces. The stoker is operated by electricity furnished by a small motor. When the furnaces have been sufficiently stoked the power is shut off by means of a switch. His duties made it necessary for him to step upon the motor. Without assuring his own safety by first shutting off the current Drake stepped upon the motor. He was knocked down and his body thrown across the motor.

Another workman saw the accident and rushing to the switch turned it. Drake's body was removed to the Rock & Clark morgue.

The deceased was born in Atchison county, Missouri, October 12, 1878. On December 31, 1903, he married Bessie, daughter of Daniel Thornton, of this city, who with three children, survive. He is also survived by his mother, four sisters, and two brothers.

The body was brought to this city, Sunday, 4th instant, and funeral services were conducted from the Christian church, by the pastor, Elder B. H. Dawson, the interment being in the Maple Grove cemetery.

CIRCUIT COURT DOINGS.

road from Alma, Neb., to Mound City, Mo., and that the door to the car in which the mules were carried was defective and weak, and failed to properly fit and fasten along the bottom thereof, and that, because of such ill-fitting and defective door, two of the mules had a hind leg fastened and wedged in between the door and the floor of the car, and that by reason thereof, one of the mules was entirely ruined, and that the other one was badly injured, skinned, bruised, blemished and maimed. They ask for $250.00 for the ruined mule, and $50.00 for the damages done to the other one. The other suit between the same parties, is for $500.00 damages alleged to have been rendered by the railroad company to the plaintiffs, in transporting a car load of horses and mules, on or about the 20th day of August, 1911, from Red Cloud, Neb., to Mound City, Mo. Plaintiffs say that one of the floor planks of the car in which this lot of stock was being carried became broken and detached, and that a hole about eight inches wide and about three and one-half feet long, was made in the bottom of the car, that five mules and six naves of those in the car, stepped or slipped into the hole and were thereby injured and damaged, that their legs were skinned, blemished, bruised, swollen and marked, and that the tendons and muscles were badly wrenched and strained and that the damages sustained by plaintiffs was $500. The cases never went to trial, having been mutually adjusted—the plaintiffs being given $250 damages in each case.

Jacob Cloos vs. C. E. & Q. R. R. Co. Appeal from J. P. by defendants. This case comes to the circuit court from Justice Steele's court at Mound City, where it was tried only recently and a judgment obtained for plaintiff for $50 as the value of a helper alleged to have been killed because of the negligence of defendant's employees, and the amount of damages doubled upon authority of Sec. 3145 of the 1909 statute. Plaintiff says that his said helper was on pasture adjacent to the right-of-way of said railroad, and that, because of the failure and neglect of defendant to erect and maintain good and lawful fences on the sides of its right-of-way, said helper strayed upon the same, and was crippled or killed. The case was placed in the hands of a jury composed of J. G. Wilson, V. C. Karns, S. W. Cotton, Geo. Cotten, J. Evans, R. F. Praiswater, T. J. Keown, Asa Turpin, W. C. Pierson, M. R. Cummings, Geo. Watson, Wm. Prussman. It was the first jury trial during this term of court, and was called Monday of this week. The jury found for the plaintiff for the sum of $40. The plaintiff filed motion for double damage. The defendant filed motion for new trial, which was overruled.

Sheriff Gelvin made his report on partition sale of certain lots in Forest City, under a suit of L. L. Teare vs. Peter Galbraith to Mr. Galbraith, for $2,000. He also made his report of sale under school fund mortgage, vs. A. O. Dankers and H. L. Thieman, of 110 acres near Corns, to A. O. Dankers for $3,700.

E. M. Miller and Helen R. McCoy vs. John Coughlin. Action in conversion. Submitted to the court; finding for plaintiff on second count for $75. In a second count, plaintiffs say that G. B. Heatherington sold hay to the defendant for the sum of $295.32, and instructed the defendant to pay sum to plaintiffs, which the defendant agreed to do; that defendant took possession of the hay, and thereby became indebted to plaintiffs in the sum of $295.32; that he paid to plaintiffs the sum of $145.32 on the said purchase price for the hay, but has failed, and refused to pay the balance thereof, amounting to $150, for which they ask judgment. Susetta Vandye vs. Walter Vandye. Divorce. Decree for plaintiff. Robert Wallace vs. Leta Wallace. Divorce. Decree for plaintiff.

J. W. Payne vs. J. B. Payne. Note. Continued by defendant at his costs.

State vs. Roscoe Blazer. Parole revoked and judgment ordered. Defendant was given six months in jail on first count and a fine of $25 on second count, at the August, 1912, term, and paroled. The young man was a passenger on the northbound Villisca train, Wednesday, August 21, in company with Arthur Collins and became quite ill, and broke some of the glass in the car windows. The first fine was for disturbing the peace, and the second for drinking on the train.

State vs. Arvetus Roberts, charged with grand larceny; the court disqualifies himself, and names Hon. Edward Kelso, of Grant City, to hear the cause, and sets Tuesday, June 10th, to hear the cause.

The grand jury completed its labors Tuesday noon, having returned 54 true bills.

Wm. E. Bissett, of Mound City, a graduate of the State University Law school, was enrolled as a member of the Holt county bar.

Court adjourned to convene Tuesday, June 10th.

Heavy Loss by Fire.

The barn of W. C. Stevenson, residing five miles north of Oregon, and the entire contents, 600 bushels of corn, 600 bushels of oats, about 20 tons of hay, entirely destroyed by fire, Wednesday night of this week, May 7. Loss estimated at $3,000, with only $600 insurance. The fire was discovered about 8:20 p. m., and at that time the flames were coming out of the cupola of the barn, above the hay mow. It was then too late to save the barn, and efforts were put forth to save the residence, and it took heroic work by the crowd of neighbors who had gathered to do this, but they finally succeeded. No cause for origin of fire is known. Fortunately there was not any stock in the barn or the loss would have been much greater. The loss falls heavily on Mr. Stevenson, and especially so just now, the beginning of the farming season.

Christian Church Notes.

The rain last Sunday cut our Sunday school attendance down some, only 115 present, but that was not so bad for a rainy day. We hope for 300 next Sunday. This is an easy mark—140 members of the church, who ought to be there sure, and 60 from other sources. I think our superintendent is going to have something new for us. Come and see what it is. Our young men's class have organized a ball team, and I hope we will have a game soon.

We dismissed our service last Sunday evening and went to hear Mr. Powell at the M. E. church. He did not preach a sermon, but gave us a good, plain, commonsense talk, which we all enjoyed.

Next Sunday morning will be the Baccalaureate service at the M. E. church. This sermon will be short and common place, but of special interest to the class, I hope.

Preaching, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Solo: "Tell Mother I'll Be There." Subject: "Mother and the Salvation of the World."

—At the J. S. Hockman saw mill Friday, April 25th, a new saw was ruined by sawing through a half inch bolt, which was in a saw log. The bolt was imbedded four or five inches and had probably been there for a number of years. Mr. Hockman also had a fire at the mill which ruined a new belt and a part of the saw frame. The fire caught from the engine in the afternoon, but was not entirely out, as the workman supposed, when they left. The total loss is about $100.—Maltland Herald, May 1st.
